Crimes of the Educators: How Utopians Are Using Government Schools to Destroy America's Children By Samuel Blumenfeld, Alex Newman

Utopian dictators like Stalin, Hitler, Pol Pot, and Mao are criminals genocidal psychopaths who have killed more human beings in the last hundred years than any other ideologues in history. They don't limit their murder to individuals, but to entire nations. In the United States another form of utopians, the progressives; have tried to destroy traditional America by strategically dumbing down her people. America's future is being crippled on purpose in order to fundamentally transform the nation, its values, and its system of government. Laid out a century ago by progressive luminary John Dewey, the fruits of his schemes are plain to see today. Dewey got rid of the traditional intensive phonics method of instruction and imposed a look-say; sight; or 34;whole-word; method that forces children to read English as if it were Chinese. The method is widely used in today's public schools, which is a major reason there are so many failing public schools that cannot teach children the basics. This can only be considered a blatant form of child abuse. American author and veteran educator Samuel Blumenfeld and journalist Alex Newman have taken on the public education establishment as never before and exposed it for the de facto criminal enterprise it is. Crimes of the Educators reveals how the architects of America's public school disaster implemented a plan to socialize the United States by knowingly and willingly dumbing down the population, a mission closer to success than ever as the Obama administration works relentlessly to nationalize K-12 schooling with Common Core. The whole-word method of teaching children to read introduced by John Dewey and colleagues in the early twentieth century and which permeates Common Core is a significant cause of dyslexia among students. Public education's war against religion, the great American math disaster; promotion of death education, and the government's plan to lower standards for all so; no one is left behind; is destroying the logic, reasoning, and overall educational prowess of America's next generation. According to the Program for International Student Assessment, which collects test results from 65 countries for its rankings. In reading, students in 19 other locales scored higher than U.S. students. In science, 22 education systems scored above the U.S. In mathematics, 29 nations and other jurisdictions outperformed the United States. Journalist Henry Mencken said it best in 1924 when he wrote that the aim of public education is to reduce as many individuals as possible to the same safe level, to breed and train a standardized citizenry, to put down dissent and originality. It is time to hold the Department of Education accountable for the crimes of the educators.

Editorial Review

Review

One does not need agree with Samuel Blumenfeld and Alex Newman on everything to agree that Crimes of the Educators makes a compelling case that America's public education system must undergo radical change if future generations are to have any chance of living in a free and prosperous country. --Ron Paul, former Congressman and Presidential candidate

"Crimes of Educators presents the culmination of over four decades of research into the causes for the decline of education in America. Blumenfeld and Newman have utterly exposed those most responsible for improving education and explain how they have purposefully pursued educational policies and teacher training methods that have contributed significantly to its decline. Beyond painting a dark picture of the educational landscape and identifying the perpetrators, they give practical recommendations for restoring excellence in education." --Donald Potter, lifelong educator and editor of First Readers Anthology

Crimes of the Educators by Samuel Blumenfeld and Alex Newman is must reading for every parent. The failure to teach children to read in the first grade means that they fall farther behind with each passing year and become bored and resentful of school. The title of this book used the word crimes and that is not too strong a word to describe what has been done to American children. --Phyllis Schlafly, president of Eagle Forum and author of twenty-two books

About the Author

Samuel L. Blumenfeld is the author of eight books on education, including: Is Public Education Necessary? NEA: Trojan Horse in American Education, The Whole Language/OBE Fraud, and Homeschooling: A Parent's Guide to Teaching Children. Alex Newman is an international journalist, educator, and consultant who is currently based in Europe but has lived on four continents. He has a degree in journalism from the University of Florida and has worked for numerous publications in the U.S. and abroad.
